On 2 February 2018, the Force Senior Management and the Police College Management met the Honorary College Advisors (Advisors) in an Appointment Ceremony. On this occasion, a total of three new Advisors were appointed and 9 serving Advisors were re-appointed for another two-year term. Among the new Advisors, Dr. FAN Tak-wing is an expert in Psychotherapy & Counselling; Dr. CHENG Tak-ming, Eric, is a retired Chief Superintendent of Police with expertise in Knowledge Management; whereas Mr. WONG Yu-wing, Symon, is a retired Magistrate / Deputy District Court Judge with expertise in legal field. The Police College now has 24 Advisors.

The ‘International Executive Development in Policing Programme’ (IEDPP), jointly run by Hong Kong Police College and Canadian Police College, has been accredited as a Level 6 programme (the same level as Master Degree) under the Hong Kong Qualification Framework (QF).

The accreditation of the programme marked three records in the local history of qualifications accreditation, namely:

- The Force becomes the first government department having acquired the accreditation for operating a training programme at QF Level 6;
- IEDPP becomes the first accredited online learning programme; and
- IEDPP becomes the first accredited programme run collaboratively by the local and overseas government departments.
To celebrate the 175th Anniversary of the Hong Kong Police Force in 2019, a series of events and activities are underway. In addition to the reputed Force Open Day and Force Charity Concert which had received positive feedback from both Force members and the public in the past, a number of celebrative events are in the pipeline:-

(1) The Force Commemorative Stamp:
To project evolution of the Force over the past centuries and decades, a set of stamps with the theme of “Our Police Force 我們的警隊” will be issued in 2019.

(2) The 175th Anniversary Book:
An Anniversary Book is being designed to formally record Force’s achievements over the years and project positive and professional image of the Force. In addition to hard copy, electronic version will be produced with application of new technology for visual enjoyment.

(3) Exhibition at the Old Central Police Station:
The venue ‘Tai Kwun’ has a rich history dated back to 1862 with a great deal of police historical police features. To celebrate the 175th anniversary, the Force will hold an exhibition at this police architectural masterpiece, which is symbolic of its time and showcases the development in law and order.
Detective Training Centre won ‘2018 Training Top 125 Award’

We are delighted and proud to announce that, Detective Training Centre (DTC) of the Hong Kong Police College has won the ‘2018 Training Top 125 Award’ of the Training Magazine, the leading business publication for learning and development professionals.

The Hong Kong Police Force is the only police service in Asia winning the ‘Training Top 125 Award’ and also the second Law Enforcement Agency (LEA) landing the award in the world since the establishment of the award 18 years ago.

DVIU and Detective Boulevard won two Gold Awards in “2017 Brandon Hall Group Excellence in Technology Award Program”

In December 2017, the application of technology in the Disaster Victim Identification (DVI), training program and application of 3D & virtual reality technology in the detective training system Detective Boulevard (DB), won two gold awards in ‘2017 Brandon Hall Group Excellence in Technology Award Program’, in category of ‘Best Advance in Unique Learning Technology’.

The ‘Brandon Hall Group Excellence Awards Program’ is the most prestigious awards program which is often called the Academy Awards in US with 23 years history, aiming at recognizing the best global enterprises and governments from all around the world. The Force is the only police service winning the gold awards in this category since its establishment in 2012.

Highlights

On 8 December 2017, Hong Kong Quality Assurance Agency (HKQAA) presented the ISO 9001:2015 Certificate to Police Operational Learning Division (POLD).

Compared to the previous version (ISO 9001: 2008), ISO 9001:2015 places more emphasis on assessing both external and internal risks, exploring opportunities and managing organizational knowledge so as to enable the building up of a strategic framework to respond to the ever changing environment.

The upgrade of the Certificate marks a major milestone to the Division, and POLD will continue to strive for professionalism and quality training.

Since the launch of “Music Touch” in 2016 till November 2017, Hong Kong Police Band (the Band) have visited 33 schools, making a breakthrough in the total number of audience, which exceeds 10,000 after a visit to St. Paul’s Co-educational College in November 2017. In 2017, the Band visited 31 schools totally and their activities attracted 11,670 audiences.

“Music Touch” is a police community activity held to reach out to primary and secondary schools. By sharing music with students, we enhance communication and mutual trust between the youths and the Force.

Apart from these encouraging figures, the Band obtained a lot of positive responses regarding their performance. The music teacher of St. Paul’s Co-educational College said, “the whole performance was stunning and splendid!” She hoped that the school wind band and the Police Band would have more chances to perform on the stage together in future.

As part of the Force’s Knowledge Management (KM) strategy, the Police College rolled out various activities to enable cross-industry and peer-organisational learning and benchmarking.

KM Singapore 2017:

In October 2017, Ms. Anna TSANG, former Deputy Director 2 of Police College-cum-Chief Knowledge Champion, led a Force delegation to attend the Knowledge Management Singapore 2017. The delegates not only conducted the fourth KM dialogue with the Singapore Police Force, but also visited INTERPOL Global Complex for Innovation to learn about their good practices on KM, police training and big data application.

G-LINK Summit 2017:

On the other side, Mr. Ian CHOW, Head of Research Centre also delivered a talk at the Global Leaders Innovate Next Knowledge (G-LINK) Summit at Bangkok University in October 2017, sharing the Force’s KM journey with international KM practitioners.

KMELB 2017:

In November 2017, Mr. Steven TAIT, Force KM Champion (Lessons Learnt) also attended the Knowledge Management Melbourne 2017 (KMELB2017) in Australia to share the development of KM in the Force with other participants.

Through active involvement in international KM events, the Force gained substantial international exposure and promoted the positive image of the Force worldwide.
On 11 and 12 October 2017, Mr. Kenneth Li, Director of Personnel and Training, led a four-member delegation to visit Zhejiang Police College (ZJPC) and officiated the Opening Ceremony of the 14th Zhejiang Police College National Studies Course. The National Studies Course is a bi-annual mainland development programme for police officers from rank of Police Constable to Superintendent. A total of 470 officers had attended the Course since September 2011.

During the visit, Mr. Li paid a courtesy call to Mr. DING Hong, President of Zhejiang Police College, and they deliberated on various training cooperation plans. Mr. DING also led the delegation on a guided tour to their new Campus at Lin’an District, which was commissioned in September 2016. It is anticipated that the new Campus shall enhance their capacity to provide undergraduate and vocational police training.

The visit not only enhanced mutual understanding, but also strengthened the collaboration between Hong Kong Police College and Zhejiang Police College.

Blood donation on 22 December 2017

Hong Kong Police College organised a Blood Donation Day with the Hong Kong Red Cross at Police College (Aberdeen Campus) on 22 December 2017. A total of 186 officers and civilian staff participated in the event and 128 bags of blood were collected. Some of the participants were new blood donors. Besides, 32 officers registered to donate bone marrow on the spot.

The Hong Kong Red Cross thanked the donors and the Force for their contribution and continuous support to blood donation. The event also provided a good platform for officers to fulfil their commitment and social responsibility.
College Shave raises $330,000 for cancer children

What is better than merely donating money for charity? That is to get actively involved in it by attracting donation and having fun at the same time!

On 27 October 2017, the Police College and St Baldrick’s Foundation jointly organised a head-shaving event to raise fund for the Children’s Cancer Foundation for the third year. 26 officers, with ranks ranging from Probationary Inspector trainee to Chief Superintendent, took part in the charity activity. Seven of the participants were women, breaking the record of woman participants in similar local activities. A total of $328,000 was raised on that day.

At the start of the event, a cancer survivor, Miss Kiki YIP, shared her experience in fighting against cancer during childhood and her wish to become a dessert chef. Afterwards, the head shaving proceeded with the voluntary assistance of three College barbers. The event was full of fun and joy when the audience gave cheers to the shavees and showed their support by making instant donations.

If you want to support research on treatment for children with cancer, you can still make a donation through the website: www.stbaldricks.org/events/HKPCS2017. In the past two years, the police officers have raised $560,000.

IM Slogan Competition 2017

Integrity is the cornerstone of the Force’s professional image and helps secure public confidence and support. The School of Foundation Training (SFT) held an ‘Integrity Management Slogan Competition’ last year to enhance the overall integrity atmosphere in the Campus.

The competition attracted 153 staff and recruits to enter for the competition.

The winners are listed below:

Police College Trainees join hands with Youth RunOurCity

As part of the Police College Formation Action Plan for trainees to know more about the society, every PI Intake will take the lead in arranging a Community Engagement Program in which they coordinate with a self-selected organization to support a worthy cause. In this connection, PI Intake 615-617, together with RPC Intake 1/2017, hosted a fun run and a Campus tour for about 50 Youth RunOurCity (ROC) runners at the Hong Kong Police College (HKPC) on 14 October 2017.

To kick off the event, Superintendent Mr Andrew GILHOOLY spoke in his welcoming remarks that HKPC shared a common objective with Youth ROC in equipping youths with a “can-do” mindset, which included confidence, determination and perseverance. He hoped that this important mindset could be further developed among the youths through similar social engagements.

After warm up, some PIs and RPCs led the participants from eighteen local secondary schools to a 5-km leisure run to Deep Water Bay and back. The group then visited the RPC Barracks and attended a foot drill demonstration. The half-day program ended with a sharing session in which trainees had a close conversation with the youths in a relaxed atmosphere, sharing their training life as a police recruit. Many ROC runners felt grateful in the event since it provided them with a valuable opportunity to enhance their understanding towards the Force and its members.
Training and Learning

Directorate Development Programme

Since 2016, Hong Kong Police College has been organizing the Directorate Development Programme (DDP) for Assistant Commissioner of Police and Chief Superintendents, as an integrated continuum of professional training for senior officers. DDP comprises two phases of training: a two-day seminar, plus five half-day sessions organized within a period of 12 months.

Blended in with discussions on a wide range of topics covering strategic leadership and resources management, distinguished community executives and leaders from public and private sectors were invited to speak on various subjects. The speakers include Professor Edward CHAN Kwan-yiu, Chairman of the Board, HKU SPACE and Mr. Nicholas SALLNOW-SMITH, Chairman of the Lion Rock Institute who shared on political and social developments in Hong Kong and crisis management respectively. Mr. YEUNG Chee-kong, Associate Vice-President (Engagement), Hong Kong Baptist University and Mr. Joe WONG Chi-cho, Director of Information Services, discussed with the participants on public relations and communications. The four speakers exchanged experience through dialogues and shared their unique views on their respective expertise. In January 2018, Mr. Jasper TSANG Yok-sing, former President of the Legislative Council gave a sharing on his experience in LegCo.

DDP aims to provide a platform for Force leaders to contemplate and confront challenges currently faced by the Force amid a fast-changing political and socio-economic landscape. Highly qualified speakers are invited to share their views and, through discussion, inspire our Force leaders to think ahead and beyond.

The Launch of "Detective Boulevard 2.0"

Riding on the success of the "Detective Boulevard 1.0", which is a single immersive and interactive visualization system delivering 3D views of crime scenes in the Virtual Reality ("VR") to trainees for the crime scene management training, Detective Training Centre (DTC) endeavors to further develop this technology-driven training programme with a view to heightening its training capabilities and quality.

As a result of concerted efforts, the "Detective Boulevard 2.0" (DB 2.0) has been successfully launched in October 2017. One of the significant enhancements is the newly introduced VR headset and handheld joystick set, which enhances the training quality by offering a better visual quality and providing interactive functions, which allow participant to examine and take photos of the exhibits, as well as to affix the exhibit tags. Coupled with the upgraded computer system and the newly renovated training suite, now, DB 2.0 can simultaneously accommodate six trainees to undergo the training in a team, which best simulates the structure and strength of a real investigation team. Since the implementation, a number of positive feedbacks had been received from the trainees. According to the E-survey conducted with 161 trainees in December 2017, over 90% of them considered the training method effective and interesting. DB 2.0 also aroused their learning eagerness and enhanced their awareness of crime scenes appreciation and handling.

With all the above, DB 2.0 continues to be an novel training model bringing advanced technology to the detective training arena that pioneers in the local law enforcement agency context.

The Police College is committed to serving as a future shaped and people empowered Centre of Excellence in the field of professional police training and talent development. To achieve this, a new training initiative on “Professional Development Programme (PDP) for Training Managers” was launched in September 2017. It is hoped that all Training Heads in Police College will be more professionalized to perform the training role after completing this Programme.

“PDP for Training Managers” is a high quality capacity building programme with three Learning Blocks of ten modules:

(i) Foundation Block;
(ii) Enhancement Block; and
(iii) Extension Block.

It covers a wide range of learning and development (L&D) topics, such as synopsis of Professional Training Cycle, Innovative Facilitation Skills, QAM and ISO, Professional Accreditation, Examination and Assessment, and outreach visits to renowned training institutes.

In October and November 2017, participants of this PDP visited two local leading training centres, Hong Kong Jockey Club and CLP Power Academy to learn more about their training strategies. Nevertheless, the programme also offered opportunities for Police College to network with L&D practitioners from different sectors.

Memorandum of Understanding with them on 10 October 2017, setting directions for future research collaboration.

Re-appointed as Honorary Senior Research Fellows are Professor YIP Siu-fai and Professor Karen LAIDLER, both of The University of Hong Kong. Dr. AU Wing-tung and Dr. ZHONG Hua of The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Dr. CHENG Shu-kei of the Hong Kong Polytechnic University and Dr. WONG Wai-ching of The University of Hong Kong have been re-appointed as Honorary Research Fellows.

Since the inception of the scheme by the Police College in April 2015, the six local scholars had completed seven studies on different policing areas and produced nine academic reports that helped the Force to refine relevant policing practices.

On the other hand, seven officers have joined the Knowledge Management (KM) family as Knowledge Associates starting from 10 October 2017. This is a new initiative in a bid to identify and appoint Force members with substantial experience and expert knowledge in specific areas of policing. They are mainly responsible for giving advice on Force training and development, transferring their expertise via KM and training activities as well as providing assistance in research projects.

As the Honorary Research Fellowship Scheme (HRFS) of the Force has borne fruitful results in optimising police work, all the six Honorary Senior Research Fellows and Honorary Research Fellows of the scheme have been re-appointed for two years. Ms. Edwina LAU, Director of Hong Kong Police College, presented Certificates of Appointment to the scholars and signed new Memorandum of Understanding with them on 10 October 2017, setting directions for future research collaboration.
Dr. CHIU Sau-mee took up the post as Deputy Director 2 of Hong Kong Police College in February 2018. Dr. CHIU brings into the College family with her experience in various streams of police work including Commercial Crime Bureau, Discipline Division and around one and a half year of secondment at Financial Services and the Treasury Bureau. She first joined Police College in September 2014 as the Head of School of Specialised Learning (ranked as Senior Superintendent level).

The Director and the Management of the Police College would like to express their heartfelt thanks to the following officers, who have commenced pre-retirement leave, for their valuable contribution to the Police College over the years and wish them a long, happy and healthy retirement.

在「學警點滴」中，我體會到學警要成為保障市民生命財產安全的警察背後所付出的努力和汗水。儘管警察訓練過程十分辛苦，但你們依然堅持不懈，並且努力做到最好，我真的十分敬佩你們。同時，有這樣一支願意為市民付出的警隊，我們市民為此感到驕傲。

在活動期間，令我印象最深刻的便是精彩的步操表演。所有警員都十分整齊，全神貫注，一絲不苟地演出，可見成員之間的默契和團隊精神。我認為這是十分不容易，當中必定付出了不少時間和努力。

這一次參觀香港警察學院，讓我了解到香港警察學院的訓練情況和學習生活，他們的自律及團結精神十分值得我們學習。他們分享了如何在訓練中克服困難，如何堅持不懈地完成任務，讓我知道加入警隊的要求。我要更加努力地讀書，將來投考警隊。

Thank you notes from Lok Sin Tong Yu Kan Hing Secondary School
在這個活動中，我學到不同的東西，例如自律和自重。拯救寶寶的活動令我印象最深刻，因為需要團隊合作。通過這個活動，我知道警察的訓練非常辛苦，多謝你們的教導。

我們在活動過程中學會了團隊精神和堅持。你們在進行步操訓練時，炎熱的天氣下仍然堅毅不屈，我們在團隊遊戲中，亦明白互相幫助和合作的重要。感謝你們安排是次活動。

在這個活動中，我學習到團體合作和思考的重要，非常感謝你們。感謝今次活動給了我一個與別不同的體驗，加深我對警隊的認識，令我更加有責任感，擴闊了我的視野。
The Police College gave the following new members a warm welcome for joining the big family between July and December 2017.
